

CANADIAN AVIATION HISTORICAL SOCIETY

 CALGARY CHAPTER ***

presents

Enjoy a unique presentation about the remarkable story of a very lucky Canadian airline pilot and aviation enthusiast who flew 11 hours as a back-seat passenger in a restored Second World War Spitfire fighter aircraft between 1989 and 1990.

Not to be missed!

Historian Karl Kjarsgaard is a seasoned commercial pilot who flew with Canadian Airlines and now flies overseas routes with Air Canada. He is an expert at his hobby of finding, recovering (fishing out) and restoring wartime heavy bombers.
