PRU BLUES Early WWII RAF photo-recon

Discover the amazing life of a forgotten Calgarian who pioneered the use of photo-reconnaissance Spitfire aircraft at the beginning of the Second World War for the Royal Air Force. A truly intriguing and unique presentation from one of his close relatives! Not to be missed!

Dave Lefurgey is a retired police officer. A former prospector, pilot, paramedic, and heavy equipment operator, he now drives school buses after having worked in the Arctic, the NWT, AB & BC for the oil industry in drilling and explosives. He has family ties to WWII.
