Two Unsung Heroes of the RCAF 1942 –1945

The Story about Neil Hamilton is primarily a story about the operation of No.331 Wing RCAF in Tunisia 1943. An RCAF participation that is very little known today. The operational tasks were supporting the Invasions of Sicily and Italy.

Donald Franko's is the story of his extraordinary good luck in making a December 1943 forced landing on the smallest island in the Orkney Islands – in the middle of the night.

Bill Cameron is one of our perennial favourites who began his career in aviation as an air cadet in 1942, serving with Canadian Pacific for 38 years, retiring as GM of North American Airport Services after serving overseas in Rome, Hong Kong, Spain and Japan. Bill is an avid model maker, historian, writer and has served as a Director of Canada's Aviation Hall of Fame.
